

Summer 2009 On-Line Course Offering for Physical Education Teachers in Virginia

&

University of Virginia
Adapted Physical Education

EDHS 589W: Including Children with Disabilities in General Physical Education

The purpose of this online graduate class is to prepare physical education teachers in Virginia to provide safe, appropriate, and individualized accommodations to children with disabilities who are included in general physical education programs. The course is divided into the following four modules: (1) introduction to inclusion, (2) planning and assessment, (3) instructional, curricular, game, and behavioral accommodations, and (4) safety and social considerations with inclusion in physical education. All information presented is based on scientifically-proven practices in adapted physical education that have been successfully implemented in physical education programs in Virginia and around the United States. This web-based course includes lecture notes, supplemental readings, and video clips. Students must register by June 5th to establish an UVa email account for Blackboard access.

Instructor: Martin E. Block, Ph.D., Professor
Kinesiology Program, Curry School of Education

Required
Textbook: Block, M.E. (2007). A Teacher's Guide to Including Students with Disabilities in General Physical Education (3rd ed.). Baltimore: Paul H. Brookes. Available at <http://www.brookespublishing.com/store/books/block-68356/index.htm>

Course Dates: June 15—August 14, 2009

Credits: Three (3) Graduate Credits

Tuition & Fees: Special Virginia In-state Educator Rate of $681

*To register or for more course information contact the School of Continuing & Professional Studies at 434/982-5319
(1-800-871-8265), email edcourses@virginia.edu, or visit our website at: www.uvaedcourses.info*

Registration
Is Now
Open!
Email or
Call us
Today